

BRING YOUR OWN MEETING ANYWHERE

AirMedia® wireless presentation and conferencing systems

Hybrid work requires the ability to host a meeting from anywhere, whether everyone is in the room, remote, or a combination of the two. AirMedia provides the flexibility to share, present, and host a meeting from one device, in any space. Connect instantly using the AirMedia application on your device or simply plug in a connector – whichever works best for you and your team.

Promote collaboration, from anywhere

Reconfigure the digital workplace for hybrid-first meetings and collaboration, all with enhanced BYOM capabilities.

Bring your own meeting

Transform any location into a high-quality conferencing space. AirMedia makes it easy to present, share, and host a meeting from anywhere, on any device.

Scalable solutions for every space

Bring video conferencing into underutilized areas such as small meeting rooms and huddle spaces. Also perfect for large rooms where multiple endpoints can be deployed to connect presenters at any distance.

Enable effective workplace communications

AirMedia enables you to manage all your organizational messaging from one location and provides customized digital signage capabilities for every space.
